

OIL PAINTERS OF AMERICA

2021 NATIONAL SALON SHOW | JUNE 10 THROUGH AUGUST 7

AT THE QUINLAN VISUAL ARTS CENTER

NANCY HOERTER

Charleston, South Carolina artist, Nancy Hoerter is widely recognized for her still-life paintings. Working in oils, she excels at depicting the lushness of flowers and the ripeness of fruit in her works. Hoerter's subjects also include landscapes from her travels as well as Lowcountry scenes found closer to home.

Nancy received her Bachelor's degree in Fine Art from Auburn University. Thereafter, she spent several years working as an award-winning designer and art director with various advertising agencies. Nancy has studied with several nationally-acclaimed artists, including Elizabeth Bronson, Ted Goerschner, Kim English, and Ovanes Berberian.

Nancy's background in design combined with extensive formal training result in exquisite compositions highlighted by the confident use of color and highly expressive brushstrokes. Her oil paintings are popular with numerous collectors across the United States and abroad.
